

The American Spice Trade Association (ASTA) is excited to call for submissions for the 2022 Susan L. Abbott Scholarship

Susan L. Abbott earned a B.A., in chemistry from St. Joseph's College in Emmitsburg, Maryland, a masters in engineering administration from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and a Ph.D. in Policy Sciences at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC).

Ms. Abbott was an active member of the American Spice Trade Association (ASTA). She served as ASTA president from 1998 to 2000 and before her term Ms. Abbott served on numerous committees including: Government Relations where she served as chair, the Ethylene Oxide Project Committee, and the Pesticide Project Committee. She also helped create the International Organization of Spice Associations (IOSTA) working with Codex Alimentarius on the establishment of pesticide MRLs on spices using monitoring data.

Who qualifies?

- Applicant must be related to someone at an ASTA member company.
- Applicant must currently have a GPA of 3.0 or higher.
- Applicant must currently be a high school senior or a full-time college or university student.
- Applicant must use scholarship to attend a four-year college or university.
- Applicant must be a full-time student at the time they will receive the scholarship.
- For a full listing of application requirements, please visit www.astaspice.org to download an application and scholarship checklist.

$1,000 Scholarships To Be Awarded

Application Deadline

March 7, 2022

Please send completed application to:

American Spice Trade Association
1101 17th Street, NW, Suite 700
Washington, DC 20036

Scholarship Coordinator:

Meegan Kavanaugh
mkavanaugh@astaspice.org
(202)331-2462